

Decatur Democrat, Adams Co, IN; Friday, Sept 30, 1892

Steele Items:

R. H. Valentine, who died Sept. 22nd of consumption, came to this county from Ohio, about six years ago, was a member of the Friends Church, in which he was a true and consistent worshiper (sic). He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his departure, besides a host of friends.

While returning from the funeral of R. H. Valentine, last Saturday, the widow Jacobs and family, by some way made too short a turn, upsetting their wagon and breaking one of her daughters' arms and spraining her other daughters' arm very bad; also Emily Steavely who was with them got her ankle out of place.
