Mrs. Nancy Naomi Andrews, 78, of 337 Edgewater, died at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Osteopathic Hospital, South Bend, following a brief illness. Born in Geneva, Ind., on March 2, 1898, she lived for many years in Monroe, Ind., but for the past 2-1/2 years lived in the home of her son, Dr. Otho V. Andrews, D.O., of the Edgewater address. As Nancy Derrickson she married Wils Arley Andrews in Monroe in 1917. He died in 1941. Surviving in addition to Dr. Andrews are two daughters, Mrs. Michael Klinger of Warsaw, and Mrs. Ralph Moorman of Decatur, Ind.; six grandchildren, four great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Carson Blowers of Avilla, Ind., and three brothers, John Derrickson of Willard, Ohio, Herbert Derrickson of Bryant, Ohio and Robert Derrickson of San Jose, Calif. Another son, Max L. Andrews, died in 1959. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. today in the Zwick Funeral Home, Decatur. Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the First Church of the Nazarene, Decatur. Rev. C.C. Cunningham, pastor and Rev. C.C. Lykins, former pastor will officiate. Burial will be in Ray Cemetery, Monroe. The Bubb Funeral Chapel handled local arrangements. Mrs. Andrews was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene of Decatur and the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Monroe.
