

Adams County Historical Museum 1939 Scrapbook

(Handwritten date: Monday, June 26, 1939)

ROSE M. CLARK TAKEN BY DEATH

Prominent Decatur Woman Dies at Hospital This Afternoon

Mrs. Rose M. Clark, 67, prominent local lady and member of a pioneer Decatur family, died shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Adams county memorial hospital.

Death was attributed to complications. She had been ill only three weeks. At that time she submitted to an operation at the hospital. Her condition became gradually worse, however, until her death.

Mrs. Clark was a life-long resident of this city. She was born in Decatur September 24, 1871, the daughter of John and Margaret Meibers, a pioneer family of this community. (cut off)

Transcribed by Karin King