

Fort Wayne News & Sentinel, Allen County, Indiana; Nov. 1, 1918

TAKEN TO DECATUR FOR BURIAL (Special to the News)

DECATUR, Ind., Nov. 1 - The body of Earl Tricker, thirty-two, former Decatur man, was brought here from Elwood, Pa., for burial, arriving here this morning. The body was taken to the Yager Brothers and Reinking morgue until funeral arrangements can be made. Death resulted from influenza. A sad feature is that the man's family, which includes his wife and four children, is also in the hospital. The deceased moved to Elwood from here last February and was employed there in the munitions factory. Two brothers, Lawrence and Morris, were also employed there. Besides the widow, who was Miss Anna Spangler, and four children, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tricker, of Farmdale, Ohio, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Frank Railing, of east of the city; Mrs. Frank Bauserman, Geneva; Mrs. Roma Parent, Decatur; Crystal Tricker, at home; Jesse, of this city; and Lawrence and Morris, at Elwood.

*****

The Indianapolis Star, Indianapolis, Indiana; November 2, 1918

DEATHS IN INDIANA

DECATUR - The body of Earl Tricker, former Decatur man, was brought from Elmwood, Pa., where he died from influenza. His wife and four children are in the hospital there.

Both contributed by Karin King