

Decatur Daily Democrat, Adams County, Indiana; Tuesday, Aug 24, 1976

Rev. Enos H. Haggard, 78, of Indianapolis, a minister of the Church of Nazarene for 50 years and a native of Adams County, died at 4 a.m. today at The Golden Rule Nursing Home in Hendricks County. He had resided in Indianapolis for 26 years.

He was a graduate of Union Bible Seminary in Westfield.

Born in Monroe on October 3, 1897, he was the son of Henry and Effie Mix-Haggard, and was married to Bessie Miles, who survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Rev. Talmage Haggard, Indianapolis and Henry Haggard, Greenfield; a daughter, Mrs. Angeline Wiggam, Speedway and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Westside Church of the Nazarene, 8600 W. 10th St., Indianapolis, and graveside services will be conducted at 5 p.m. at the Decatur Cemetery, with Rev. R. B. Acheson officiating. Friends may call at the Farley West Morris St. Chapel after 2 p.m. Wednesday.