Spent Entire Life In Adams
County; Funeral Services Held Sunday

Charles H. Lammiman, age 67 years, well-known throughout Adams county, fell dead about 7 o'clock this morning while performing his labor as manager of the beet weighing station of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company, at Curryville, nine miles southwest of this city. Death was said to have been due to apoplexy.

Mr. Lammiman, whose home was in Montee, went to his work as usual this morning and apparently felt no worse than usual, although he has been complaining for some time. He had picked up a fork to move a few beets, it is said, when suddenly he fell to the ground. He lived only a few minutes after other workmen picked him up. A physician was summoned from Monroe who said death was due to apoplexy. The Wells county coroner was called to investigate the death.

Charles H. Lammiman was born in Decatur, September 6, 1855. He spent much of his life in this city and has always resided in Adams county. For the last three years he has had charge of the beet station at Curryville. Mr. Lammiman served as Justice of the Peace of Monroe township for a period of eight years. His youngest daughter, Ada Lammiman, and a son, Charles Lammiman, lived with him, his wife being deceased. Besides the two children mentioned, the following children survive: Harvey Lammiman and Mrs. Roy Runyon, of Decatur; Mrs. H. C. Parkinsin, of Ossian; Mrs. Hugo Perner, of Omaha, Nebraska; Nellie Lammiman, of Warren, Ohio; John D. Lammiman, of Bay City, Michigan; and Lewis Lammiman, of Toledo, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from the Methodist church in Monroe, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
