

Decatur Daily Democrat, Adams Co, IN; Friday, 20 January 1989

Noble W. Lobsiger, 72, 104 N. 15th St., 11-year employee of Decatur Industries, died at 5:34 a.m. today in Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne.

He retired from Industries in 1981 and was a former truck driver for Automatic Sprinkler and several other companies. He also operated Lobsiger's Glass and China Shop for many years. He was a member of First Baptist Church.

Born in Monroe on Feb. 13, 1916, he was the son of John and Minerva Bollinger-Lobsiger, and was married Jan. 30, 1933, in Willshire, O., to Dorothy R. Felty; she survives.

Also surviving are four children: Robert D. Lobsiger, Durham, N.C.; Mrs. Edward (Joyce Colleen) Marbach, route 5, Decatur; Dennis D. Lobsiger, Decatur; Mrs. Greg (Cheryl) Wirzbicki, Yorba Linda, Calif.; three sisters, Mable Woodby, Flushing, Mich.; Mary Coffee, Ossian; Velma Daniels, Decatur; a brother, Paul Lobsiger, Monroe; six granddaughters; six grandsons; three great-granddaughters; and one great-grandson. He was preceded in death by six brothers, six sisters, two grandsons, one great-granddaughter; one son, John, died in infancy.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in Zwick-Sefton & Jahn Funeral Home, Rev. Doyle R. Carpenter officiating. Burial will be in Decatur Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday. Memorials are to the First Baptist Church.