SGT. ROBERT MILLER IS KILLED IN ACTION Geneva Soldier Is Killed In Germany

Sgt. Robert Miller, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Miller and husband of Mrs. Betty Jo Blocher-Miller of Geneva, died of wounds received in action in Germany on March 19, the war department notified the family yesterday.

Sgt. Miller was an infantryman with the First army, which crossed the Rhine and marched into Germany.

The Geneva soldier entered the service on Dec. 14, 1943. He was trained at Fort McClellan and Fort Meade, Md., going overseas last year. In October he was wounded in action by shrapnel and had been awarded the Purple Heart and good conduct medal. He saw action in France, Belgium and Holland before going to Germany.

Sgt. Miller was born in Geneva on Dec. 12, 1914. He was graduated from the Geneva high school in 1931 and was married to Miss Blocher on June 9, 1940.

Prior to his induction into the army, he was employed at the Geneva Milling Company and at one time operated a newspaper at Lagro. He also had written several magazine articles.

Besides his parents, and wife, he is survived by a 21-month-old daughter, Jacqueline, and three brothers.
