FORMER BERNE TEACHER DIES ON SATURDAY

..Dies Following Major Operation

FUNERAL TODAY AT CINCINNATI

Mrs. Leslie Sprunger, formerly Alice Basford and at one time a school teacher here, died at 2 o'clock Saturday morning at a hospital in Buffalo, N. Y., according to word received here. Mr. Sprunger, the husband of the deceased woman, is a son of Mrs. D. C. Sprunger of this place. Mrs. Sprunger died following a major operation which she underwent last Thursday. Mrs. Sprunger was about 41 years of age.

Mrs. Sprunger taught English, German and Music in the Berne High School from 1917 to 1920. She was unmarried at that time, but married Leslie Sprunger Nov. 25, 1926. The marriage took place at Springfield, Illinois. The family has been living at Eggertsville, N. Y. for some time, but Mr. Sprunger is employed in a print shop in Buffalo.

Surviving are the husband and one daughter, Patricia, aged 5.

The funeral was held this afternoon at Cincinnati, Ohio. Several from this place attended the rites.
