HONEYMOONING

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reed

It's as plain as the smile on their faces that this happy couple has just been married. But it may surprise you to learn the handsome groom is Ed Reed whose Off The Record cartoon is a regular daily feature of The News-Sentinel. The bride was Mary Anne Cullum, a newspaperwoman on the staff of the Dallas News, until her marriage to Reed December 28. (PHOTO PROVIDED)

RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. Leonard Liechty

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spade, of Peterson, announce the marriage of their daughter, Velma, to Leonard Liechty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Liechty, of Linn Grove, December 24, at the Decatur Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed. The couple were attended by Miss Fern Passwater and Ralph Spade, brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a blue chiffon velvet dress of ankle length with a rhinestone clip at the neck. Her footwear were silver sandals. She carried a shower bouquet of white mums. The bridesmaid wore a blue velvet dress similar to that of the bride. Sweet peas comprised her corsage.

Mrs. Liechty was graduated from the Kirkland High School and the groom attended Berne High School.

After January 15, the couple will live in Celina, O., where the groom is employed. (PHOTO PROVIDED)

HILTON QUILTS NOVELTY HERE

Salesman for Local Firm Starts Own Plant in Chicago

R.L. Hilton, who brought the world's largest fancy box order to Berne for two years, has severed his connections with the Nussbaum Novelty Company here, to start manufacturing his own product.

Mr. Hilton's company will incorporate under the name of Floron-Craft, specializing in "stainless steel" novelties, retailing at $5.00 and up, mostly up from what we saw. The company is located at Chicago.

Mr. Hilton brought a quarter of a million dollars worth of business to Berne, by securing two large fancy wooden box orders for the Nussbaum factory here, and local people regret to see him leave Berne.

CHILD EATS PILLS, DIES

CAROL SILL, AGED 2, NEAR MONTPELIER, SUCCUMBS AT HOSPITAL IN BLUFFTON

Special to The News-Sentinel

BLUFFTON, Ind., March 28.-Carol Joan Sills, aged 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Sills, living one mile west of Little Chicago, near Montpelier, died in the Wells County Hospital Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock after eating several medical pills at the home earlier in the day.

The pills, obtained by the child's great-grandmother for her rheumatism, contained sodium nitrate and barbatol sodium. The great-grandmother was staying with the child at the time, while the parents were shopping in Bluffton.

PARENTS NOTICE ILLNESS

When the parents returned, they noticed the child's illness. She was taken to a Montpelier physician, who advised her removal to a hospital. She died shortly after being admitted.

Coroner William McBride investigated the case. Funeral services and burial probably will be at Montpelier.
