rites SATURDAY A. M. FOR MRS. WM. P. HENDRICKS, 78
Aged Local Resident Dies at County Hospital Thursday P.M.

Mrs. Achsah Alice Hendricks, 78, widow of the late William Pinkney Hendricks, passed away at the Adams County Memorial hospital at 1:57 o'clock Thursday afternoon following a paralytic stroke which she suffered a week ago last Sunday morning at her home on Behring street. She was stricken while outside the house and was discovered lying in her yard by a lad delivering milk to her residence.

She was a native of Monroe township and was born on the farm three and a half miles north-east of town where she spent almost her entire life. She was a daughter of William and Julia Jones-Harris and was born on January 19, 1865. Her father had purchased his farm from the government at $1.25 an acre, and with the exception of several years which the Hendricks family spent in Colorado, she being the youngest child of the family remained on the farm until a few years ago, their age necessitated her and her husband to retire. They then moved to the present home on Behring street.

Before her marriage she spent a few winters as a rural school teacher in Monroe township.

Her marriage to Mr. Hendricks took place on January 13, 1887. He preceded her on December 15, 1939. To them was born a son, Guy Hendricks, who resides at Arvada, Colorado, a suburb of Denver. He arrived at his mother's bedside a week ago last Tuesday. He and a seven-year-old granddaughter, Billie Ann, are the only immediate survivors. E. M. Ray of this place is a nephew and Mrs. Charles Braun and Mrs. Anthony Michaud are nieces.

Brothers and sisters preceding her were Mrs. John Reifey, Jen?e, wife of Levi W. Ray, Thomas and Bernard Harris.

Following the death of her brother Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks had four of the former's children in their home for a number of years, Huldah and Walter, now deceased, and Beatrice and Carl.

The body will be taken to the Yager funeral home at 4 o'clock this afternoon where friends may view it. Funeral services will be held at that place on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery. Rev. C. R. Maas will officiate.
