

THE FACULTY

- Mr. Cockrum: If you don't want to go home you can stay here, as I have said before.
- Miss McClasky: Now let's go a little fa'ther.
- Miss Tichenor: Are you chewing gum?
- Miss Duncan: At this point I will assign the lesson as follows.
- Miss Bates: I know the best joke on Mr. Hammond.
- Miss O'Brian: Now take that into consideration.
- Mr. Hammond: You see that, don't you?
- Miss Danks: Now, girls, let's be quiet, and please don't sit on the tables.
- Miss Hancock: Why, down at Coffeyville they—.
- Miss Lowry: Now, boys and girls, it's just this way.
- Mrs. Brodhecker: Goodness, gracious me!
- Miss Saupert: We must lay aside our prejudices and be Americans first.
- Miss Mossman: It isn't polite to talk when others are talking. I'll stop.

PET AMBITIONS

(By GRACE WATSON and MARGARET NOBLE)

- Katherine Ashmead: To live about two miles out on the state road.
- Charles Ballard: To have better control over his eyes.
- Beatrice Bruce: To become less boisterous.
- Paul Brumfield: To become secretary of the treasury of the U. S.
- Helen Carithers: To shorten the road to Owensville on account of the H. C. of gas.
- Irene Cockriel: To run "Fat" and a Chevrolet.
- Mabel Daugherty: To regain the love of Estes Hollingsworth.
- Helen Davison: To become a reporter for The Clarion-News in order to carry the news more rapidly.
- Raymond Dill: To ratify the League of Nations.
- Mary Eleanor Ewing: To become a Galli-Curci or a Pavlowa.
- Herbert Graetz: To become a second Daniel Webster.
- Catherine Harter: To become a teacher in a deaf and dumb school.
- John Hilliard: To become the greatest corn grower in Indiana.
- Janice Jopling: To become a physical training teacher at I. U.
- Fred Kerr: Cars.
- Homer Kister: To accompany Fred on his rampages.
- Harold Laib: To have closer relationship with Mary Vivian than merely being on the same debating team.
- Mae Lamb: To play "Little Eva" in Uncle Tom's cabin.
- Mary Mauck: To become Indiana's poet laureate.
- Elizabeth Milburn: To pose for an artist, preferably a man.
- Bertha Morgan: To be the wife of the secretary of the treasury.
- Rose Morton: To be a successful humorist.
- Luther Mayhugh: To convince the majority of the Seniors that dancing is the stepping stone to purgatory.
- Margaret Noble: To be as innocent as appearance suggests.

Growth---

Growth is Mighty.

As Emerson says, "The creation of a thousand forests is in one acorn."

Like the acorn, DEPENDABILITY to the success of a store, is the same as mother earth is to the acorn. It is fertile. It is the foundation. It creates friends by the thousand.

But growth must come through experience. We must know a thing before we do it. That requires personal experience, for everything that exists today, was once the private opinion of one person.

The growth of this store is not an accident. It is the result of an idea of its founder, in a plan for the future, using his experience in catering to the needs of the store's customers.

And back of it all, stood the goal and motto—DEPENDABILITY.

Yes, we have grown, but the day is still early. This growth shall continue because these ideals shall continue.

The RIGGS DEPARTMENT STORE

PRINCETON, IND.