

FLOYD ALLGOOD - Bad Checks

Source: Crawfordsville Daily Journal Wed Nov 11, 1914

Floyd Allgood, 19 year old son of Thoms Allgood of near Ladoga is in the county jail here awaiting arraignment in circuit court on a charge of forgery. The affidavit against young Allgood has been prepared by Proseccutor Ira Clouser and will be filed within a few days. The young man was arrested near Lafayette last week charged with forging the name of his father to a check for $100. It is said the lad used the money to get married and to go on a honeymoon trip. He was in trouble in Lafayette two years ago when he stole a motorcycle from the office of the Lafayette Journal. On pleading guilty at that time Allgood was released and placed in the care of a Lafayette contractor. He has been leading a stright life since that time, it is said. It is understood here that the boy's father will try to get his son out of the present difficulty. Allgood is the only occupant of the county jail here, the bastile being nearer empty than at any time in the past two years.
