

EVA BARNHILL

Source: Waveland Independent, Waveland, Montgomery County, Indiana May 12, 1905 (Friday)

Mrs. Eva Barnhill, who moved from here to Ridgefarm, Ill, is in trouble. She with a woman named Stewart have been conducting a millinery business in the store of A.M. Hypse. Having missed some goods, he had a search warrant issued and about $75 worth of good were found in a room over the store occupied by the women. They were related after a preliminary hearing on bond. Mrs. Barnhill forfeited her bond and is still at large. The Stewart woman was tried before the justice and released.