

Frank BARTON

Waveland Independent

Waveland, Montgomery County, Indiana

Nov 23, 1923

Harvey Barton's son, Frank had a narrow escape from death on Wednesday morning. He was playing shinney with some other boys in front of his home on West Main Street and backed in the way of Dr. Harbeson's auto. The machine passed over him but luckily didn't hurt him. The marshal gives notice elsewhere for the boys to stop knocking tin cans about the streets. It is dangerous to them and for other people, and for window lights.

---

The website management appreciates all the contributions provided for use here.