-- Postman's condition fair today. Waveland -- A Waveland postal carrier is in fair condition today in Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis after being injured in a traffic accident. A hospital spokesman said Fred Bazzani, 55 of Rt. 1, Waveland is in the constant care unit at the hospital. State police said a car driven by Bazzani and a truck driven by Jim Barnes, 21 of Rockville were involved in an accident on Co. Rd 750 W south of Co. Rd 850 S. about 9 a.m. last Thursday. Bazzani slowed down to cross a narrow bridge and skidded into the path of the truck. He received abrasions and cuts to the leg and arm. His car received $3,000 damage

Note: his car was completely totaled -- hard to believe anyone could have gotten out of it - he broke his neck but was lucky Jim Barnes was the other driver as his parents owned a mortuary and Jim had had some medical training - he knew NOT to move dad -- anyone else could have pulled him out of the car and completely done him in -- it was really rough but he came out of it fairly well but was forced to medically retire :(. Typed by his daughter, Karen Bazzani Zach
