

MAHALA CARR GRAY

Source: Sunday Star, Crawfordsville, November 14, 1898

The ninetieth anniversary of Mahala Gray was celebrated on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Casad. She was born in Clark County, Ind., on Nov. 8th, 1808, thus being one of the oldest pioneers of the state. A dinner was made for her by her daughter, Mrs. Casad, her sons, Newton and Sturgeon Gray, and her grandsons whom she reared from infancy, Harvey Gray and wife. She is the mother of eleven children, of whom eight are living; Mrs. Overton, of Kansas, Mrs. Casad, Mrs. Noland, and Mrs Enoch of Northern Ind., Mrs. Trout, of Illinois; Jefferson Gray, of Missouri, with Newton and Sturgeon Gray of this county. Three daughters, Mrs. Jas Hutton, Mrs. Thomas Johnson and Francis M. Gray, are deceased members of the family. So many absent only her daughter, Mrs. Casad, and the sons of Newton and Sturgeon were present. James Hutton, her son-in-law, her granddaughter, Mrs. Hart, of Chicago, her grandsons, Ray and Harmon Hart, her grand-daughter, Mrs. Duff Casad, and her great grand-sons and daughter, the children of Harvey Gray, remembered her with most pleasing tokens. All partook of a sumptuous dinner - thanks to Kim H

The website management appreciates all the contributions provided for use here.