

JOSEPHINE HESLAR

---

Source: Waveland Independent newspaper, Waveland, Montgomery County, Indiana June 29, 1905

The five-year-old daughter of Wm. Heslar, who lives on the Mitchell place near Byron, had a narrow escape from drowning, Monday. She went to the spring to get a drink. Shortly after, her mother found her lying unconscious near it. It took an hour's work to bring her to. There is a sewer tile in the spring and it is supposed the child fell in head downward. - typed by kbz -- somehow I just can't quite picture this ???! -

Note: This is likely Josephine but may possibly have been Berniece Heslar another of their daughters

The website management appreciates all the contributions provided for use here.