

EPH JOEL - Burned

Mr. Eph Joel, a popular clothing merchant of this city, put a small package of gunpowder into his stove, a few days since, in order to clear the pipe of soot. After waiting some time, he looked into the stove door to see why it didn't "go off." We suppose he learned all about it. He is not much powder marked, but he wears his eye brows, eye lashes and moustache short. He is now in "a different business any more."

The website management appreciates all the contributions provided for use here.