

WOLVERTON boy

Source: Crawfordsville (Indiana) Weekly Journal 7 October 1898

"Browns Valley news" - Jake Wolverton's little boy was returning home from school on Monday evening and Arthur Johnson called him in their house and ate what was left of his dinner, then gave him a piece of bread with Lewis Lye on it, which he ate and which is about to eat up his mouth and tonue. He was brought back to the doctor as quick as possible and is suffering much pain. There is talk of something being done with Arthur as he is a large boy and knew that he ought not to have give it to the boy - transcribed with anger by kbz :(
