

HENRY S. LANE - barn

Source: Crawfordsville, Indiana Sunday Star, newspaper April 14, 1874

The barn of Col. H.S Lane was consumed by fire at about 12 1/2 o'clock on Christmas Eve. The time of the occurrence of the fire is proof sufficient to justify the belief that it was the work of an incendiary; and may be but a stepping stone to a more extensive conflagration before the winter is passed. Our advice to all is, sleep with an eye open and keep your powder dry.
