

Bert PERKINS

Source: Waveland Independent

Oct 9, 1914

Bert Perkins is carrying around a patch of sticking plaster on his forehead because he tried to break the lever on a wheel drill with his head. He says it sounded mightly solid when it struck and then for awhile he lost interest in wheat drilling.