

SICK WOMAN ROBBED

Source: Crawfordsville Weekly Journal, 21 April 1888

NUMBER THIRTEEN ITEMS -- A woman in the city who sews for a living was taken seriously ill a few days since. She had saved $30 in money, which, when she got sick, she had her daughter to carefully wrap in paper and place it under the pillows of her bed. Sunday morning the money turned up missing and the paper in which it was wrapped was found in the yard where the thief had thrown it. - thanks to Kim H
