

CRAWFORDSVILLE SUNSHINE SOCIETY

---

Source: Crawfordsville Review Feb 9, 1911

The Sunshine Society of the Crawfordsville high school is one of the most active and useful organizations in the student body. Through the work accomplished by these young ladies during the holidays just past, many homes in Crawfordsville which would have otherwise been bare of yuletide cheer were gladdened with gifts, food and clothing. In spite of the extensive charitable work carried on by the society recently Miss Sinclair, treasurer reported at the last meeting that the society had a balance on hand of over $30. The Sunshine girls do not do good just in spots and at times. The society is active the year around and this feature of its work might be successfully emulated by alleged charitable (sic) organizations composed of older folks.

In photo: Bottom Row: Maurine Watkins, Katherine Kingery, Dorothy Greene. Top: Louise Stubbins, Catherine SinClair (left to right, facing picture) -