

DAVID M. TURNER - Broken leg

Source: Crawfordsville Weekly Journal 27 July 1894 p 7

New Ross, July 24 - Yesterday evening, D.M. Turner, a prosperous farmer and hardware dealer of this place met with a terrible accident. He had started as usual from his store here to his home one mile south of town in a buggy. When within a 100 yards of home the horse became frightened at Lincoln Webb who was leading some horses out of a ditch, suddenly turned around and pitched Mr. Turner into a deep ditch breaking his limb in the upper third of the femur and badly shaking him up. Our local doctors were summoned and after consultation dispatched for JW Marsee of Indianapolis who arrived on the midnight train. The member was set and although he is suffering considerably he is doing well.
