

LEW WALLACE

Source: Crawfordsville (Indiana) Star newspaper, Dec 19, 1903 p1

General Lew Wallace has been in New York during the past week, and word has been sent all around that he was taking treatment for a cancer and appendicitis. He denies all this and says that he will "look up the fellow who is trying to make an invalid out of him, when he gets back," and that "the fellow ill need an operation performed when he gets his just deserts." There may be something doing of Wallace can catch him, which is not likely to occur. – transcribed by kbz
