

SWEATLAND

Source: Crawfordsville Daily Journal 10 Jan 1910

Archibald K. Harmon of Washington, DC while making a business trip to Louisville, KY stopped over Sunday with his sister-in-law, Mrs. George P. Sweatland. Mr. Harmon was adopted at Boston when quite young and was an own brother to George P. Sweatland, better known as Paul Jones, who was drowned last September. His visit was made very sad by the fact that the two brothers had been separated since they were 5 and 7 years of age and had known of each others existence little moret han a year. Mr. Harmon did not even get to attend his brothers' funeral as owing to some mistake the message did not reach him until too late.