

ED VORIS

Source: Crawfordsville Star April 28, 1887

Ed Voris is the proud owner of "Old Riley," the buckskin colored Creole horse of which Stanley Simpson was so long the proud possessor. Stanley will retain possession of Gardiner, the trained dog. - kbz (wonder what he was trained for - what a hoot)

Ed Voris while traveling in the Old World five years ago at Weisbad, Germany jerked Mrs. Eliza J. Tolman of Minneapolis, from the railroad when a trail was close and narrowly escaping death himself. The train hit his heel and threw him several yards away. Wednesday he received word that she had died and left him $500. Ed is in great luck.
