

WAVELAND - Courtney - Whiskey

Source: Crawfordsville Indiana Daily News-Review, May 2, 1901 p1

Since the court's ruling in favor of Courtney, the man who applied for license to start a saloon in Waveland, there is talk of burning the building in which the saloon is to be located. If this ever happens it will be done by men who have previously tanked up on the drug store whisky for which Waveland has been so long famous – Rockville Tribune - transcribed by kbz

Note: There are several Courtneys in Waveland at this time so not sure which one this is
