

SGT. HOWARD EICHER KILLED IN CRASH Son of Ray Eicher Victim in Bomber Crash in Kansas

Staff Sergeant Howard R. Eicher, 22, was killed Wednesday in a bomber crash near Waldo, Kansas, according to word received by his wife at Piqua, Ohio, who forwarded meagre information of the tragedy to Eicher's mother, Mrs. Dwight Bower at Bluffton. The ill-fated young airman was a son of Raymond Eicher, who is living with his father Chris Eicher at Geneva.

The bomber is said to have been on a routine test flight when it crashed but nothing has been learned as to the fate of the other members of the crew. S. Sgt. Eicher was a flight engineer with the army air corps.

Sgt. Eicher was born in Hartford township on August 7, 1921 a son of Raymond and Mable Swagart-Eicher. He attended elementary school in that township and graduated from Bluffton high school in 1939. On August 23, 1942 he was united in marriage to Miss Mildred Waltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Waltz who have since moved to Piqua. On the day following his marriage he entered service from Wells county in the air corps and had recently been stationed at Blyth, California.

He is survived by his wife, mother, father, and a grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Swagart Of Bluffton, a brother Pfc, Carl Eicher, serving in heavy artillery a Fort Sill, Oklahoma. It has not been learned if the body will be shipped to Piqua or to Bluffton for burial. An uncle, Solomon Eicher, died in the nation's service at a Kansas hospital last Spring on he Saturday before Easter.
